ABSTRACT

This bibliography of over 1000 items contains sections on general curriculum development and materials, and on the subject areas traditionally found in public schools. Emphasis is placed throughout all categories on personalized curriculum materials with sharpest focus on materials for drug education, black studies, family living, and ecology. Other sections include special education, media, and guidance-counseling. (RA)

FOREWORD

The materials listed in this bibliography will be displayed at the ASCD 1972 Annual Conference to be held March 5-8 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. All materials received by the Curriculum Bulletins and Instructional Materials Committee may be examined at ASCD's Curriculum Materials Exhibit on the Exhibition Floor of the Philadelphia Civic Center Convention Hall. The Committee wishes to thank each contributor of material, without whose generous support an undertaking of this nature would be impossible.

Unfortunately, not all materials received by the Committee are listed in this bibliography. Materials not listed were received after December 1, 1971, our cut-off date established to ensure timely publication and distribution of this booklet. Materials received but not listed will, however, be displayed at the Conference.

Since all materials received will be displayed, it is impossible for this Committee or ASCD to endorse their value. Consequently, they must be evaluated on an individual basis.

The Committee has tried to classify the materials in a manner consistent with the scheme used in previous years. An examination of the bibliography will reveal the increase of materials in the categories of drug education, family living, black studies, and ecology. It should also be noted that there is a continuing emphasis upon individualized programs within all categories.

An undertaking of this nature required a team effort. The Committee wishes to thank Mrs. Edna Dunphy, Misses Lee M. Karafin, Carol Nolde, and Frances V. Smith of Temple University's Instructional Materials Center, without whose support the accompanying bibliographies could not have been provided.

Persons requiring additional information regarding the materials listed in this bibliography should contact the contributing school system or department of education, and NOT this Committee or ASCD.
—W. Patrick Leonard.
